FALL INDUSTRY WORKSHOP SERIES 2008

Stage Performance Workshop

So you have a great voice and love to perform! The Stage Performance Workshop will teach you how to take your performance to the next level! In this intensive workshop you will learn performing techniques that will catapult you from an ordinary performer to an extraordinary performer! We will explore such subjects as song selection, connecting with your audience from the stage, communicating a song's message, dealing with anxiety, how to emotionally move your audience and much more! Participants will work individually and in a group setting with veteran performer and recording artist Victor Lopez. The workshop will conclude with a group number and solo performance from all participants for family and friends to enjoy! After all, all roads lead to the stage!

Audition Techniques Workshop

The Auditioning Technique Workshop is a great tool for young performers (age 10-17) who are looking to refine and enhance their audition experience. Focused on Music Theater auditions, this workshop will walk participants through the steps of preparing for an audition as well as how to deal with a variety of audition experiences. Participants will go through practical exercises to demonstrate proper auditioning etiquette, how to handle cold readings, preparing for and executing a great vocal audition, and dealing with dance auditions – no matter how much training you have! The entire day will culminate in a final “MOCK Audition” at which we will adjudicate every student and assess individual strengths and weaknesses. This way every participant should feel better prepared and more confident when it's time to face their next audition!

SPRING INDUSTRY WORKSHOP SERIES 2009

Recording Artist Workshop

Have you ever wondered what all goes into recording a song and making a CD? In The Recording Artist Workshop we will take a journey through the process of vocal coaching, preproduction, recording, producing, mixing, and mastering a project. Each participant will select one song to be recorded at a state of the art recording studio with the assistance of our resident producer and vocal coach. Participants will learn proven techniques that are essential to recording in a studio in order to achieve a great vocal take. Best of all, each participant will take home with them a copy of their recording work to share with friends and family! This workshop is limited to only 10 participants!

Dance Theater Revolution Workshop

The Dance Theater Revolution Workshop is geared towards students age 10-17 with a keen interest in theatrical performance through dance. There are many professional dance theater companies that are renowned for their performance abilities. This workshop is meant to allow participants the experience of being a member of such a company. After an initial assessment for ability and levels, the participants will learn a performance piece from a larger conceptualized dance theater production. This performance piece will be geared towards helping the students express character and narrative purely through movement, as opposed to through lyrics or lines. This two-day workshop will culminate in the performance of the learned piece for friends and family.
